For Immediate Release

Updated Training CD for CBRE Sampling Kits Available

QuickSilver Analytics, Inc. is very excited to introduce an updated version of our training CD for our CBRE Sampling Kits. The first edition of the training CD was released in 2004 and only discussed the QSA 102 Chem-Bio Sampling Kit. Since then many changes have occurred in our Sampling Kits including explosives detection, radiation sampling and two new models, so a 2008 edition was developed to cover our CBRE Sampling Kits.

The updated training CD is set up as an easy to follow, PowerPoint presentation with links to several appendices for additional information. It does include overview information on the QSA 102 (backpack), QSA 600TC (transport cart) and QSA 800HC (hard case). The training CD discusses the components and use of the sampling tools within the kits. It reviews our unique cleaning and screening procedures for sampling tools that come in contact with chemical samples. The training CD also discusses the quality that goes into each kit that we sell.

The updated training CD will be included with all kit orders starting July 1st, 2008.

If you are a customer who has purchased one of our CBRE Sampling Kits in the past and would like to receive the updated training CD, please contact our sales department at sales@qckslvr.com.
